Hi

I was pleased to see that there is an urban-led approach to the new Dudley plan and its proposed development. I do hope that this will improve the local area with a focus on regeneration and the focus is not on just on adding more - sparing our greenbelt and green field sites which is not only vital but has been made clear to be a local issue recently. I do feel we must strike to keep and protect our green field sites whilst regenerating the local area where there is lots of potential for improvement on current and brownfield sites.

Regards
Alan
