Thank you for consulting the County Council on the draft Local Plan.

Whilst we do not share a boundary with the Dudley district, there's a lot of common usage of the M42 south of Solihull by both Stratford District and Dudley Borough residents, and the Kidderminster/ Worcester rail line, and the Chiltern line run through Dudley Borough at Stourbridge and then on to Birmingham and directly to either Stratford or Warwick/ Leamington and then London.

The lack of employment land coming forward in the Black Country may be encouraging more development in Warwickshire. the larger housing developments proposed won't have much impact on Warwickshire as it's a different market. They're not particularly near the Warwickshire rail links, but some people could live there and commute by car, or via the station and drive.

The Council therefore has no objections to the draft plan.
