Dear Planning Department,

I am very sad to hear that despite all the hard work of the SAVE CORBETT MEADOW group, the meadow is still not safe from development.

John Corbett gave the house and land to Trustees for the people of Stourbridge.. believing I'm sure that the trust he placed in them would ensure that the people of Stourbridge would continue to benefit from the enjoyment of nature and therapeutically despite the demise of the hospital in its Georgian form.

Sadly it is coming to light that the mental health of children and adults in this country is in serious decline, but happily that nature is restorative and that we must guard and cherish every acre of woodland and grassland possible for the future well being of people and children & in this case of Stourbridge.

Emergency planning can have utterly devastating effects. It cannot be undone and remains to remind us how carefully we need to treat the place where we and future generations will live. The concrete race track around the centre of Stourbridge which has changed it from a lovely market town to a shadow of its former attractive self is an excellent example - also the bridge which names our town which has nothing distinctive or attractive about it but looks more like something over a motorway!

Please honour the trust placed in us by John Corbett in 1892 in his wish to provide a lovely therapeutic area for the people of Stourbridge .. and SAVE CORBETT MEADOW FOR PEOPLE AND WILDLIFE.
